Our 2026 Strategic Roadmap: A Bold Blueprint for Growth

TekWissen's leadership shares a clear, ambitious vision transforming client challenges into opportunities and driving measurable impact across every service line.

"Together, we will transform client problems into opportunities, celebrate milestones, and raise the bar for what we can achieve as a united organization."

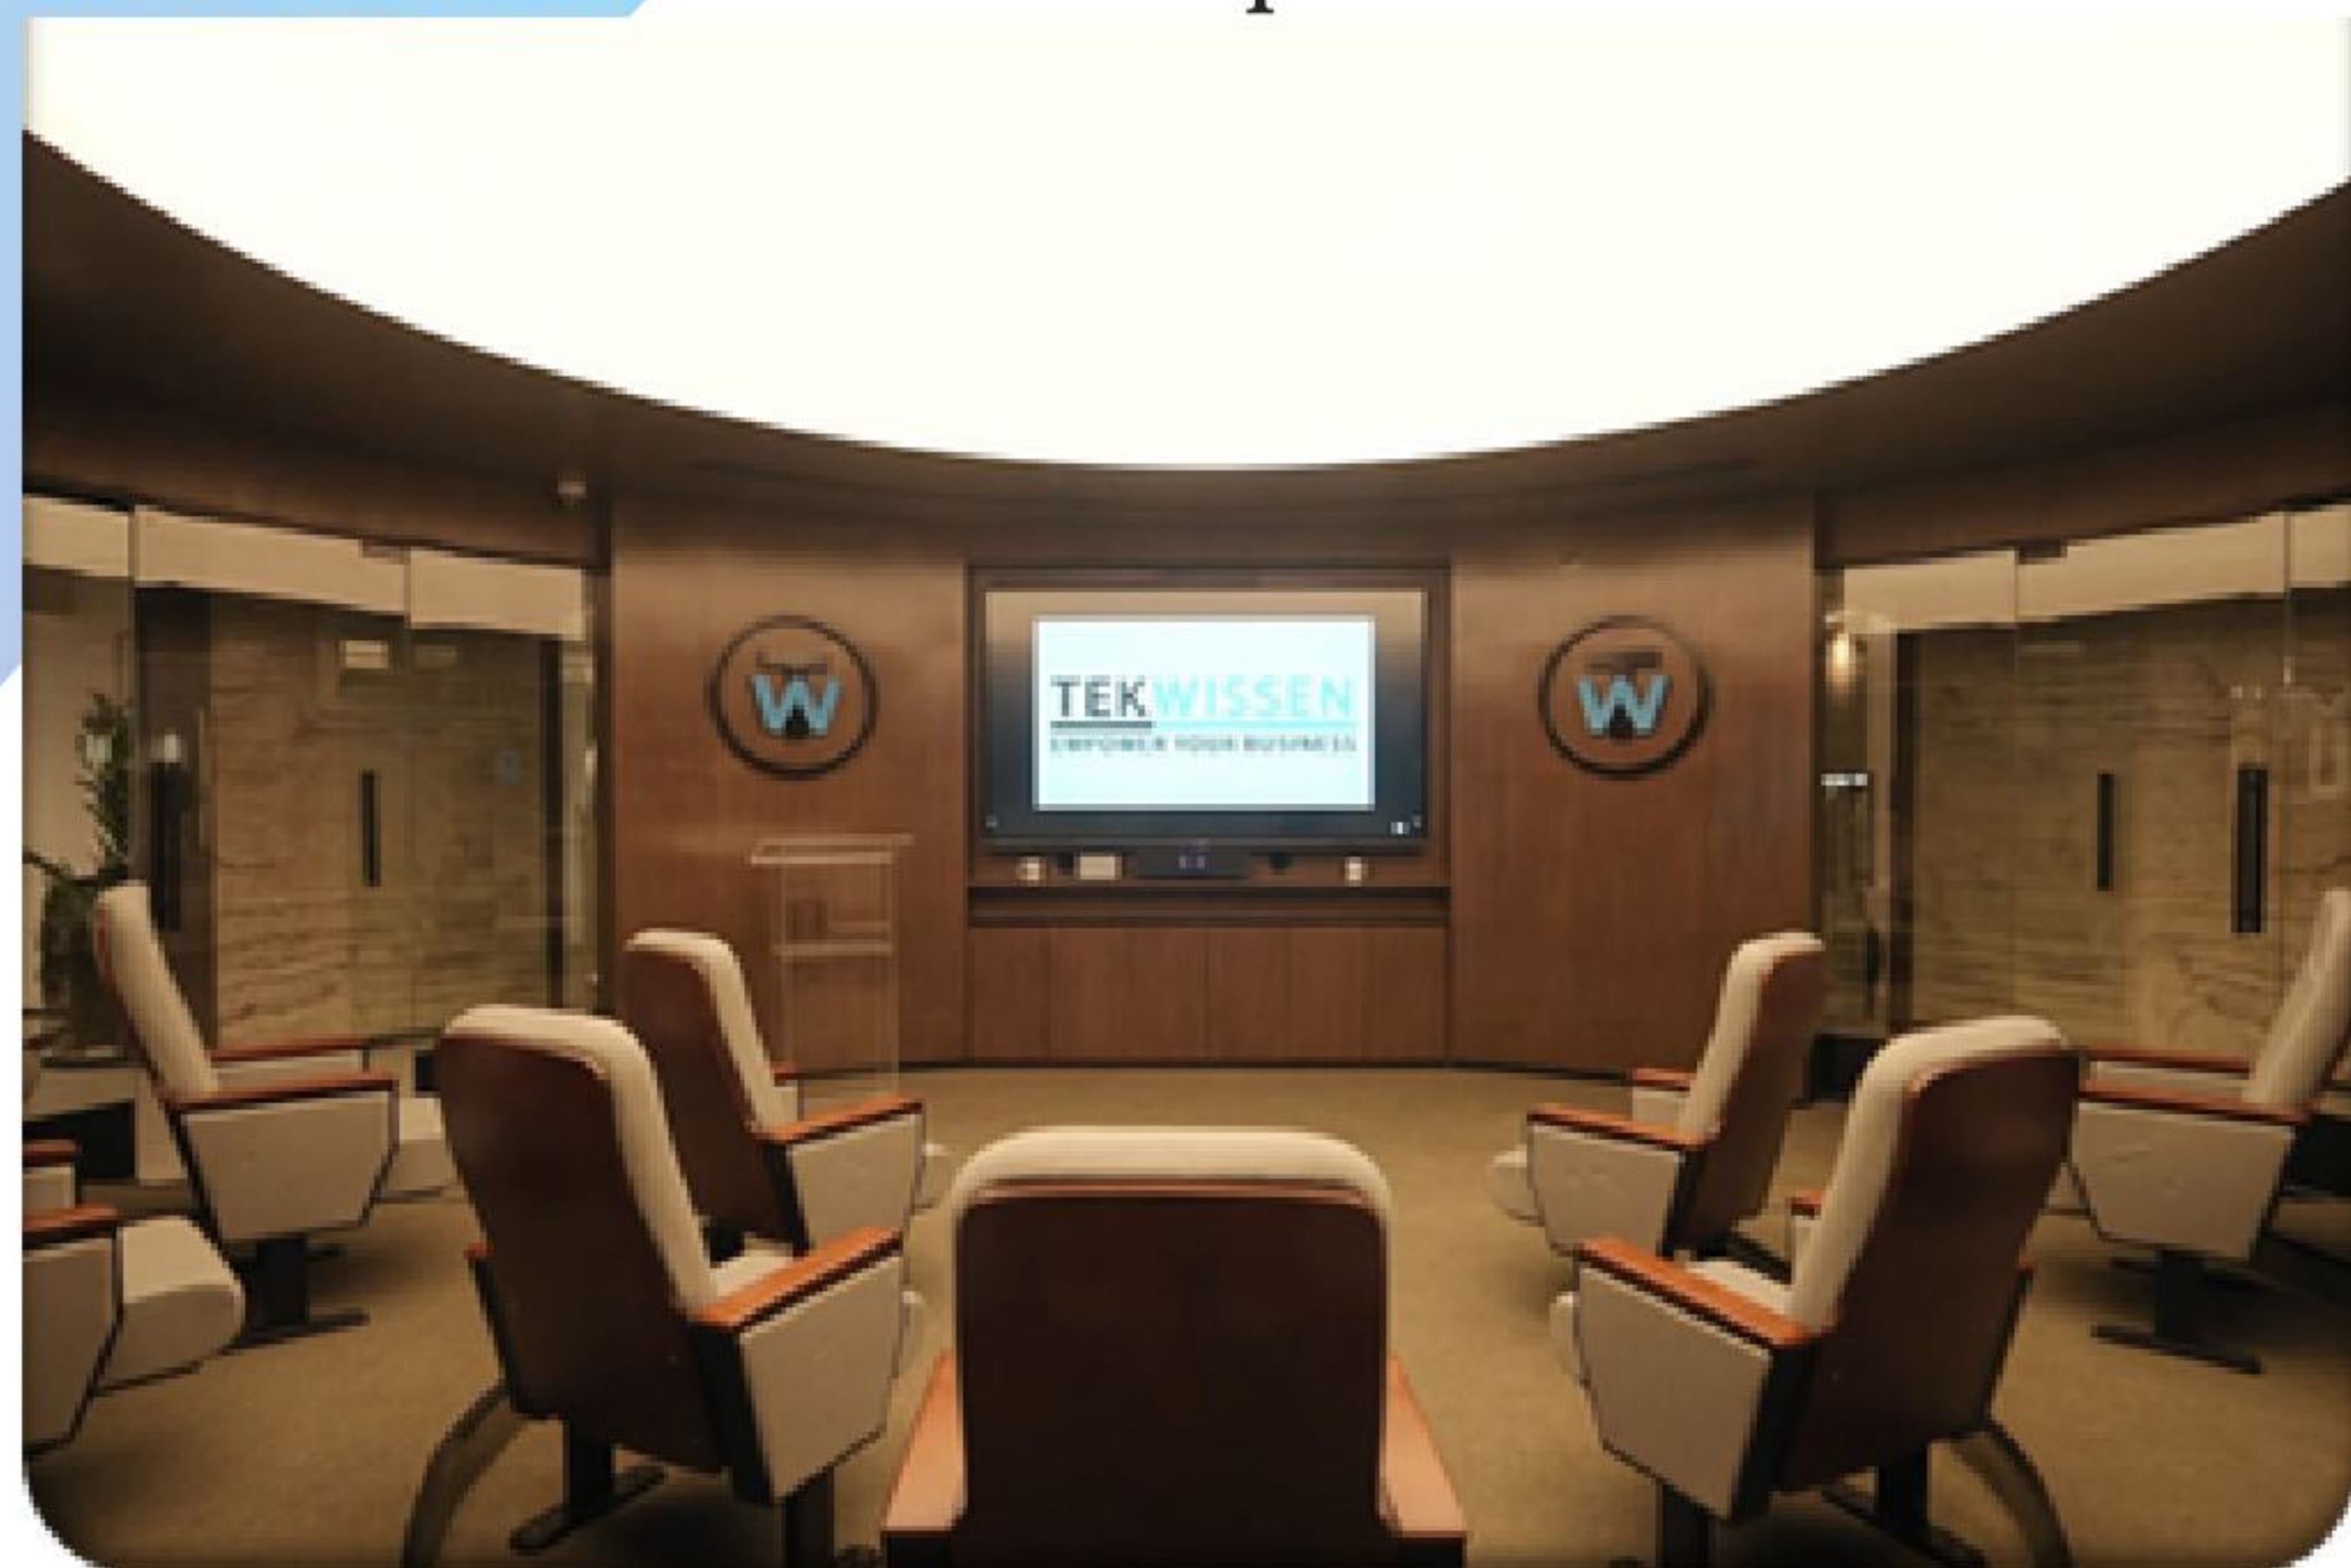

Our leadership team has unveiled TekWissen's 2026 Strategic Roadmap a comprehensive, forward-looking plan that sets a bold course for the year ahead. Anchored by a clear north star, the roadmap challenges each of us to seek out client problems, say yes to solving them, and deliver measurable outcomes faster and with exceptional experience.

The roadmap reflects our commitment to growth with intention — not just adding clients or contracts, but deepening trust, expanding capabilities, and building a company that earns its reputation as the world's most impactful workforce and innovation partner.

A central theme woven throughout the roadmap is the call to own the outcome. Leadership has made clear that this year is about accountability and execution — every team member is not just a contributor, but a driver of results. Cross-functional collaboration, a client-first mindset, and data-driven decision-making are the cultural pillars that will power our progress.

Digital enablement also takes center stage, with a mandate to equip all functions with automation tools and real-time dashboards — bringing data to every decision and every team.

As leadership puts it — the future is not a distant dream. It is being built right now, by all of us. Here's to an impactful 2026.

Introducing the TekWissen Learning Series

Your ideas will directly shape what we learn and how we grow as an organization.

"A key pillar is our Learning Series these sessions will nurture curiosity, broaden skills, and reinforce our collaborative culture."

AN EVENING WITH THE CEO — WHERE IDEAS MET INSPIRATION

Some evenings leave a lasting impression and this was one of them. Our Founder & CEO, Rajeev Senta, joined TekWissen's very first trainee batch in Bangalore for a special dinner that was as warm as it was inspiring. Over great food and genuine conversation, the evening brought together fresh energy and seasoned wisdom in the most natural way possible.

For many in the batch, sitting across the table from the founder of the company they just joined was a milestone moment. For Rajeev, it was equally meaningful a chance to look into the eyes of the people who will carry TekWissen's mission forward and to hear their stories, dreams, and questions firsthand.

Moments like these are a reflection of the kind of company TekWissen aspires to be one where leadership is approachable, beginnings are celebrated, and every team member matters from day one. Here's to the first batch, and to many more such evenings ahead. Welcome to the TekWissen family!

Tiny Star Alert!

Guess the TekWissen Face

Looking at this picture takes us back to a time when life was simple, carefree, and full of curiosity. Like every child, this little one had no idea what the future held but was always eager to explore, learn, and grow.

"Every journey starts small, with tiny steps that eventually shape who we become."

From those early days to where they stand today, three values have stayed constant through every chapter of the journey.

- Resilience
- Curiosity
- Continuous learning

Life has brought different experiences, challenges, and milestones each shaping both personal and professional growth. And through it all, one belief holds firm: that childlike curiosity and openness keeps us grounded and helps us keep evolving.

Sharing this moment is not just about nostalgia it is a reminder that behind every professional is a story, a journey, and a beginning just like this. Grateful for how far the journey has come, and excited for what lies ahead.

Guess who this little star is?

Any Guess?

Looking at this picture takes us back to a time when life was simple, carefree, and full of curiosity. Like every child, this little one had no idea what the future held but was always eager to explore, learn, and grow.

"Every journey starts small, with tiny steps that eventually shape who we become."

From those early days to where they stand today, three values have stayed constant through every chapter of the journey.

- Resilience
- Curiosity
- Continuous learning

Life has brought different experiences, challenges, and milestones each shaping both personal and professional growth. And through it all, one belief holds firm: that childlike curiosity and openness keeps us grounded and helps us keep evolving.

Sharing this moment is not just about nostalgia it is a reminder that behind every professional is a story, a journey, and a beginning just like this. Grateful for how far the journey has come, and excited for what lies ahead.

Guess who this little star is?
